What is ‘Diversity’?

✦ All of the significant differences between people that an organisation needs to take into account in managing and serving people.

✦ The significance depends on the situation.

✦ The most importance differences are often the least visible.

How Can Cultural Diversity be ‘Managed’?

- Working with and managing cultural diversity management is a generic skill
  - Most managers deal with it daily – or ignore it
  - Actively managing it increases competitiveness
- Understanding employee motivations and satisfactions an important component of good management.
  - Culture influences perceptions of universal human needs
How Can Cultural Diversity be ‘Managed’?

🌟 Diversity management requires new knowledge, skills & “cultural competence”

🌟 Cultural competence: The awareness, knowledge, skills, practices and processes to function effectively in situations characterised by cultural diversity.
How Can Cultural Diversity be ‘Managed’?

Working with and managing diversity raises many complex issues...

The Business Case for Managing Cultural Diversity: Compliance Factors

“Many migrants who come to Australia for economic reasons expect discrimination and prejudice – and find it. But the fact is that I am better off than if I had stayed in my home country, so I don't speak up. The discrimination does have a negative impact, but I put up with it. Sure, things would be much better, and I could contribute more, if I didn't feel that I was being held back all the time.”

Worksheet #7
Summarise Your Business Case for Managing Cultural Diversity

- What is the current situation: problems and/or opportunities?
- Who is directly involved or affected?
- Why do we need to take action? Benefits of taking action/Consequences of inaction?
- What action should we take?
- What outcomes are desired?
Summarise Your Business Case for Managing Cultural Diversity: Example

- Due to a global skills shortage in engineering we face difficulties in attracting and retaining international professionals. Some are going to our competitors. Language and cultural differences are also hindering integration and productivity.

- Unless we act to develop a culturally competent recruitment and career development process we face reduced competitiveness and inability to capitalise on opportunities for growth.

- The proposed process will deliver:
  - increased retention of professionals
  - employer of choice reputation overseas and in Australia
  - greater production capacity, team effectiveness
  - reduction of labour turnover costs.
2. Cross Cultural Communication

- Understanding Culture and Cultural Diversity in Australia
- The 4 Basic Elements of Cross-Cultural Communication
- Understanding Cross-Cultural Adaptation
- Developing Organisational and Personal Cultural Competence
Cross Cultural Communication

“People don’t get along because they fear each other. People fear each other because they don’t know each other.

“They don’t know each other because they have not properly communicated with each other.”

Dr Martin Luther King, 1929-68
“Hierarchy is so much stronger in France and Britain than it is here. I am used to having to use quite formal language.... Here there is great openness and more opportunities to network across levels of the organisation. People are seen more on the same level as human beings rather than as holders of titles or positions.”

"Disagreements occur in Australia without people becoming offended.... People in India tend to be much more sensitive. I had to get used to the fact that here you can disagree with someone's idea but still be friends with them at the end of the day."

"I am a very direct person – even in Brazil people thought that – and I have to tone it down a lot here. In conflict situations, people want you to stick to the facts.... In my culture, we want to engage!"

G'Day Boss! Australian Culture and the Workplace, B.West , F.Murphy, 2007
What is “Culture”?

“Culture: n. the sum total of ways of living built up by a group of human beings, which is transmitted from one generation to the next.”

Macquarie Dictionary
What is “Culture”?

“Culture is communication and communication is culture. People cannot act or interact at all in any meaningful way except through the medium of culture.”

Edward T. Hall, The Silent Language, 1966
What is "Culture"?

- "Culture is the collective programming of the mind which distinguishes the members of one category of people from another."
  Geert Hofstede, 1984

- "Culture is a deep phenomenon, merely manifested in a variety of behaviours. Culture is the pattern of automatic assumptions, unconsciously held and taken for granted."
  Edgar Schein, 1985
What is "Culture"?

- Culture operates at several levels:
  - National Culture
  - Regional Culture
  - Industry Culture
  - Organisational Culture
  - Occupational Culture

- Culture also operates at several personal levels:
  - Culture
  - Personality
  - Ideology
What is “Culture”?

“Culture hides much more than it reveals, and strangely enough, what it hides, it hides most effectively from its participants.”

Edward T. Hall, 1966
What is "Culture"?

A culture is the way a group of people have learned to solve problems and resolve dilemmas.

It is

‘the way we do things around here’.

The key question for understanding is ‘WHY?’

Generalising vs Stereotyping

Generalising
- Grouping elements to form logical categories to make sense of a complex world
  - ‘Western’ societies tend to be individualistic
  - Germans tend to value efficiency and formality
  - U.S. Americans praise personal achievement
  - Japanese society values discretion and politeness

Stereotyping
- Categorising people as a group, ignoring individual differences
  - Australians are selfish
  - Germans are uptight
  - Americans are show-offs
  - Japanese never say what they really think

The Four Basic Elements of Intercultural Communication

| Verbal Behaviour | What we say and how we say it | • Accent & tone
|                  |                             | • Volume & rate
|                  |                             | • Idiom & slang
| Non-Verbal Behaviour | What we say when we’re not talking | • Body language
|                    |                             | • Object language
|                    |                             | • Environmental language
| Communication Style | How we prefer to express ourselves | • Making a point
|                     |                             | • Ways of speaking
|                     |                             | • Ways of interacting
| Values and Attitudes | What we believe is right | • Beliefs & feelings
|                      |                             | • Ethics & standards
|                         |                             | • Prejudices

Verbal Behaviour

Accent  “I love/can’t stand that accent!”
How much do we judge each other by our accents?

Tone of Voice  “Don’t take that tone with me!”
How do tones affect us? (high/low pitched, sharp)

Volume  “Why do they have to talk so loudly?”
In different countries, the softly-spoken may appear weak or the loudly-spoken rude or pushy.
Verbal behaviour

Rates of Speech

“Slow down! You’re not in the city anymore.”

We often judge people’s intelligence or emotional state by their rates of speech.

Jargon and Slang

“We need to get some runs on the board.”

Jargon: “downsizing”, “ramping up”

Slang: “You little ripper!”, “ain’t”, “bludger”
Verbal Behaviour

Idioms and Metaphors
“Don’t beat around the bush”.

Idioms: expressions peculiar to a language
“Keep your fingers crossed” “Pull your socks up”.

Metaphors: figures of speech
“A blanket of snow” or “A sea of troubles”.

Proverbs: popular sayings carrying core values
“Too many cooks spoil the broth”, “A stitch in time saves nine.”
Non-Verbal Behaviour

- Body Language
- Object Language
- Environmental Language
Non-Verbal Behaviour

Body Language

Movement
Posture
Gaze
Touch
Facial Expression

Gestures
Distancing
Eye Contact
Politeness
Hygiene
Non-Verbal Behaviour: Body Language Questions

- How far apart do people normally stand?
- How much eye contact is expected?
- How much do people touch each other?
- What do gestures mean?
- How do people greet each other?
- How do people physically show respect?
- How do facial expressions convey meaning?
- What are personal hygiene expectations?
Non-Verbal Behaviour

🌟 Object Language

- Signs
- Artefacts
- Adornments

- Designs
- Clothing
- Accessories

Communication Style

- Different cultural assumptions
  Appropriate styles, silences, humour, when “yes” means “no”

- Different ways of making a point
  What’s logical, direct or indirect, emotion or logic

- Different ways of speaking
  Turn-taking, verbal and non-verbal conventions, politeness
Communication Style

- Ways of stating your case: direct or roundabout
- Tolerance of silence
- Use of humour and irony
- Speech rules, politeness, turntaking in conversation
- Different meanings of ‘yes’ and ‘no’
- Structuring information, views of what is logical: particular, general
Values, Attitudes & Prejudices

What we believe is right.
How we feel about the world and how we judge other people.

“Values are the basis of a people's identity - their sense of peculiarity as members of the human race.

“Culture carries the entire body of values by which we come to perceive ourselves and our place in the world.”

Ngugi Wa Thiong'o  Decolonizing the Mind: The Politics of Language in African Literature 1988

All Cultures Share Core Human Values

- Respect for human dignity
- Respect for basic rights
- Good citizenship
- The Golden Rule: Do unto others…

People share common basic values but express and uphold them in culturally different ways.
Core Human Values: The Golden Rule

Confucius:  What you do not want done to yourself, do not do to others.

Christianity:  Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

Judaism:  What you hate, do not do to anyone.

Islam:  No one of you is a believer until he loves for his brother what he loves for himself.

Hinduism:  Do nothing to thy neighbor which thou wouldst not have him do to thee.

Sikhism:  Treat others as you would be treated yourself.

Buddhism:  Hurt not others with that which pains thyself.

Understanding Cross-Cultural Adaptation

- Immigrants: Change by choice
  - Own decision. Preparation. Resources. Networks.
  - Stronger sense of identity, self-worth, competence, security, belonging and acceptance. Looking forward.

- Refugees: Change by chance
  - Others’ decision. Little or no preparation. No or very few resources and networks.
What is ‘Culture Shock’?

● “Culture Shock” is the psychological disorientation most people experience when they have extended contact with a different culture to their own.

● It builds up over time and manifests itself in different emotions and behaviours.

● Culture shock can affect our senses of identity, self-worth, competence, security and belonging.
Stages of Cultural Adaptation

- Stage 1: Contact/ Honeymoon
- Stage 2: Disintegration/Disorientation
- Stage 3: Re-integration/Irritation & Hostility
- Stage 4: Autonomy/Adjustment & Integration
- Stage 5: Independence/ Biculturality

Adapted from P.Casse, Training for the Cross-Cultural Mind, 1990
Stages of Cultural Adaptation

Stage 1: Contact/ Honeymoon

- Differences are interesting
- We are insulated by our own culture
- Perceptions of new culture screened by own culture
- Excitement, stimulation, discovery
- Curious, assured, positive
Stages of Cultural Adaptation
Stage 2: Disintegration/Disorientation

- Differences have more impact and begin to intrude on our sense of well-being
- We miss the cultural support of our home culture
- We misread or miss new cultural cues
- We may feel confused, isolated, apathetic, inadequate. We lose some self-esteem
- We may become depressed, withdrawn
Stages of Cultural Adaptation
Stage 3: Reintegration/Irritability and Hostility

- We begin to reject and criticise the new culture
- We can feel angry, nervous, anxious, frustrated
- We become pre-occupied with our likes and dislikes
- We become more self-assertive, opinionated
- Growing self-esteem and determination
Stages of Cultural Adaptation
Stage 4: Autonomy/Adjustment & Integration

- We recognise and understand the differences and similarities
- We become more self-assured, confident, relaxed, warm to others
- We can negotiate most new situations
- We feel assured of our ability to deal with new experiences in the new culture
Stages of Cultural Adaptation
Stage 5: Independence / Biculturality

- We become more accepting of differences and similarities, valuing the diversity within our adopted society

- We are able to fully express our personality with trust, humour and affection

- We are once again fully capable of choice, and of creating meaning for situations
5 Stages of Cultural Adaptation

- Most people experience distinct psychological stages when adapting to a new culture, from first contact to full adjustment.
- Some people adapt more easily and quickly than others.
- Understanding that it is a common experience helps us to adjust to new cultures and enables us to help others adjust to Australian culture.
Worksheet #10
Cross-Cultural Adaptation Analysis of Workplace and Customer Experiences

• Review the cross-cultural experiences or situations you described earlier.

• At which stages of cross-cultural adaptation were the people involved in the experience or situation?
Cultural Adaptation: Questions for Organisations

- At what stages of adaptation are the people you interact with – colleagues, staff, customers, communities?
- Do all employees understand the effects and stages of cultural adaptation?
- How can we help ourselves and others to adapt more easily to other cultures?
Developing Organisational and Personal Cultural Competence

- Cultural Competence: The awareness, knowledge, skills, practices and processes to function effectively in situations characterised by cultural diversity.

- Cultural Self Awareness
- Cultural Literacy
- Cross-Cultural Bridging
Developing Organisational and Personal Cultural Competence

- Systemic – policies, procedures, monitoring
- Organisational – skills, resources, supportive organisational culture
- Professional – education, standards
- Individual – knowledge, attitudes and behaviours, support for individuals
Developing Personal Cultural Competence

Be prepared

Managing Culturally Diverse Teams

"Education in China is based on rote learning.... Here, people want you to express your own opinions.... People are open to different individuals' ideas and then they pick and choose the best ones."

"To the company, I am just another employee, while in Pakistan I was a member of the organisation."

"I find that there is more emphasis on teamwork here.... In my opinion, Australia's convict beginnings have contributed to more of an 'all for one and one for all' attitude than you'd find in the USA or Britain."
